OCCUPIES HIS OLD CELL IN PRISON

Faces Renewal of Determined Efforts of N. Y. State to Send Him Back to Asylum

NEW YORK, March 13 .- Harry K. Thaw, acquitted today of conspiracy in escaping from Matteawan, faced tonight a renewal of the determined efforts of New York States to send him back to the asylum. In his cell in the Tombs he was enthusiastic.
His keepers said he was whistling like a boy and seemed to be the happiest man in the city.

Almost endless litigation seemed to be in sight as the result of the verdict. The words of acquittal had scarcely died on Foreman Bailey's lips when Deputy Attorney General Cook moved to have Thaw recommit-ted to Matteawan. This was opposed by John B. Stanchfield, chief of Thaw's counsel, on the ground that the court already had under advisement a motion to return Thaw to New Hampshire, whence he came to answer the conspiracy charge. The motion was renewed and Supreme Court Justice Page set Monday for argument thereon.

In the meantime Thaw occupies his old cell in Tombs prison, the cell in which he was locked during the months from the night he shot and killed Stanford White, nearly nine years ago, to his remova, to Matteawan.
Thaw's four aides in his whirlwind

Thaw's four aides in his whirlwind automobile flight through four States to Canada were acquitted by the same verdict which acquitted and were discharged. Deputy Attorney General Kennedy, while satisfied with the verdict insofar as it related to Thaw, said that he had expected a conviction of Thaw's accomplice:

An appeal from Justice Page's de to Matteawan was regarded almost as a certainty, regardless of what the decision might be. The case, therefore, seemed likely to remain in the courts for months before final decision.

Before returning its verdict acquitting Thaw and his codefendants, the jury labored all night and uatil 12:20 o'clock this afternoon. The verdict was reached quickly after the reading of that portion of Thaw's testimony which concerned his intestimony which concerned his intent in escaping from Matteawan-as to whether he intended to commit a crime-and his own views as to his

The closing proceedings of court were calivened by a personal en-counter between John Lanyon, a private detective in the employ attorney general's office, and Sheriff Grifenhagen, of New York county. Lanyon resented the sheriff's order n from the court as a pri vate individual, and, after a dispute, it is said, struck the sheriff in the face. Lanyon was arrested, but after the jury had been discharged, he was brought into court and released after be had applogized to Justice Page and Sheriff Grifenhagen. Thaw dined heartily in his cell in the Tombs tonight. To a warden who brought him a number of congratulatory telegrams he expressed grati-fication at the verdict, but was noncommittal when it was suggested that he might soon be declared sane and receive his liberty.

"I'm not so sure of the outcome as that," said Thaw, "but I am going to make a fight for it."
